

CORIA NT ON.

C. R. BOWERS.

JOSEPH HAWORTH.

JOSEPHINE DRACI.

JAMES H. LEWIS.

The grand initial production of the much-talked-of spectacular drama "Corianton" will occupy the boards of the historic Salt Lake theater on next Monday evening. Charles Roy Bowers, who designed the costumes, scenery and lithographic cuts for the company, has just returned from New York, and reports everything on hand for the magnificent production. The scenery is purely Aztec, while the costumes of the Nephites and Zoramites are taken from the ancient Egyptians, Phoenecians and Medians, the Lamanite costumes from the Aztec. The swords, spears and other implements are designed from Aztec and Phoenecian descriptions, and are made of copper-bronze. The scene is laid in the Aztec country, seventy-five years before Christ, and is supposed to be the history of the people who left Jerusalem 550 years B. C.

The remainder of the professional people who are in the cast—Thomas Coleman, Josephine Draci, and Charles Roy Bowers the Shilbon of the cast—arrived from New York this week and have taken part in the rehearsals during the past three days.

Mr. Bowers, who has been associated with Joseph Haworth in the productions of "The Christian" and "Quo Vadis," says that he considers the leading man one of the greatest artists in his line today on the American stage.

J. H. Lewis, the popular manager of the production, states that everything is in ship-shape for the opening performance, and promises the grandest success for the drama that has ever been placed on the boards of a Salt Lake play-house.

AGNES ROSE LANE.

Tintic Lodge.

Tintic Lodge, No. 711, B. P. O. E., instituted June 20, 1901, by a number of the officers and members of Salt Lake Lodge No. 85, was the second lodge installed in Utah. The charter members of the new lodge numbered thirty-three, and, if there is any luck in odd numbers, the Tintic people should congratulate themselves with their initial sendoff. Jere Driscoll was made Exalted Ruler; W. A. Holzheimer, Esteemed Leading Knight; George Hayes, Esteemed Loyal Knight; Edward Pike, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; George Owens, Tiler; Charles Coyle, Secretary; Harry Morse, Treasurer; W. M. Nesbitt, C. H. Campbell and S. J. Schneider, Trustees.

The growth of the new lodge has been rapid, and when the roll is called at the convention Tintic Lodge No. 711 will make a creditable showing in the antlered throng.

Park City Lodge.

Park City Lodge No. 734, B. P. O. Elks, was instituted on November 27th last, with forty-eight members, by District Deputy A. W. Raybould, assisted by the officers of Salt Lake Lodge No. 85. Over 100 Elks from Salt Lake came up on that occasion. The officers installed at that time were: William D. Donohir, E. R.; John W. Geiger, E. L. K.; C. A. Blocher, E. L. K.; L. B. Wright, E. L. K.; F. M. Pinneo, Secretary; F. R. Davis, Treasurer; H. Benj. Hampton, Tiler; Rev. G. F. Cook, Chaplain; Alex Colbath, Inner Guard; S. L. Raddon, W. C. Wallace, J. W. Quinn, Trustees.

Since that time the baby has grown until 123 good men and true can feel the full-grown antlers, and the Park Lodge is laying claim to the banner lodge of Utah outside Salt Lake. It numbers among its membership the leading business men of the camp. The present officers are: John W. Geiger, E. R.; C. A. Blocher, E. L. K.; L. B. Wright, E. L. K.; H. Benj. Hampton, E. L. K.; F. M. Pinneo, Secretary; F. R. Davis, Treasurer; Alex Colbath, Tiler; Rev G. F. Cook, Chaplain; D. B. Shields, Inner Guard; A. R. Weeter, W. C. Wallace, J. W. Quinn, Trustees.

Ogden Lodge.

The city of Ogden will experience an absolute exodus of Elks from its business centers during the grand carnival in this city. It is safe to say that none of the antlered boys will be left behind when the roll is called for volunteers. They will bring along the Ogden band and propose cutting a wide swath in the parade. Commencing today, they will have a delegation at the Ogden depot to meet every train and will distribute literature descriptive of Utah to all comers. The Elks who can stop over for an hour or more at Ogden will be escorted to all the points of interest in or near the city, and on the 14th three excursions will be run to various resorts suburban to the city, while on the evening of the same day there will be a masked ball and confetti battle. A room has been secured by the Ogden Elks near the depot, which will be used as headquarters for Elks en route to the convention at Salt Lake.
